

- Walking the Planck with a string-inflated lifevest
Cliff Burgess (McMaster University/Perimeter Institute)

This talk reviews the motivation for thinking about string inflation instead of simple models, provides a preliminary assessment of the Planck satellite's scorecard for string-inflationary models, and draws conclusions about what should be expected from the upcoming improved sensitivity to primordial gravitational waves.